WINSOR & NEWTON

* Founded in 1832 in London by William Winsor and Henry Newton, the company has become a global icon in fine art materials. Today, they offer a full spectrum of supplies—including inks, paints, brushes, and papers—under the Colart Group umbrella.
* Introduced in the late 19th century, these inks are made from soluble dyes in a shellac binder, offering rich, transparent colours, fast-drying, and water-resistant qualities.
* Available in around 26 vibrant shades, including special pigmented versions like Gold, Silver, White, and Liquid Indian (Black) that are lightfast. And its price is Rs 7,650

* Designed for brushes, dip pens, or airbrushes, these inks are fully intermixable (though mixing gold and silver should be done carefully due to chemical reactions).
* Crafted specifically for lettering and expressive writing, these use high-quality pigments in an acrylic base. And its price is Rs 10,275
* There are 18+ colours, with transparent satin-finish hues (blue-capped) usable in fountain, dip, technical pens, and airbrushes, and opaque colours (red-capped) best suited for brushes or dip pens. Black and white inks offer a matte finish. And its price is Rs 1,350-1,700